J. C. Aver & Co. Gents: I icel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me.
Having inherited a Scrofulcus infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned in ward and distressed me at the was painful and loathsone beyond description. I reputation that anything you made must be good.

I sent to Cincinnali and got it, and used it till it

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

New Orleans, 32th August 1859.

Dr. J. C. Ayen: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects i have realized with your Sarsaparilla. I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Fenered and Mercurial Disease. One of my partients had Syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were your Sarsaparilla expendity taken cured him thouse weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his nose, and the ulceration had caten away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla, the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated forthe same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered exercicating pain in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your gent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours, G. V. LARIMER, M. D. Rheumntism, Gout, Liver Complaint.

Jules Y. Getchell, of St. Lonis, writes: "I have been afficied for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried everything, and everything failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beleved pastor, the Rev. Mr. Espy, advised me to good enough."

Schirrus, Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Elecration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.
A great variety of cases have been reported to us where cures of these formidable complaints have resulted from the use of this remedy, but our space here will not admit them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

The days of the Disraeli Ministry have been few and full of trouble The majority against the motion, of Lord Stanley to lay the Irish question over till the Reformed Parliament was decisive, and the Ministry sustained a defeat which by the display of a little tact it might easily have avoided. When the Conservative Ministry took the wind out of Liberal sails, and exceeded even John Bright's demand for a radical change in the system of franchise, they but whetted the popular appetite for reform: Having opened wide the door they could never hope to close it again until other and greater reforms were granted. They refused or neglected to see this. They believed that having by the sacrifice of a cardinal principle of their party granted a liberal franchise, they had secured a lease of official life until the next general election, when, relying on the popularity they believed reform had gained them, they hoped to gain an easy victory over the Liberals. We cannot see how so clever a tactician as Mr Disraeli is acknowledged to be, could have made so stupid a blunder as to cast his chances into the scale against the Irish Church. For months the English press has teemed with articles calling on the Government to put an end to the great in quity by means of which tithes were wrung from the people for the support of a creed in which they had not the slightest sympathy, and the benefits of which they could not con scientiously enjoy. The new Premier must have seen with half an eye that he could not successfully combat with the change of sentiment concerning the Irish Church which had come over the English public. The Irish Church is doomed by popular sentiment-the sentiment that henceforth will govern the nation, and before which any Ministry that opposes it must go down. The course the Ministry will pursue is undecided. If they merely resign their scals, they will follow the example of the Glad stone Ministry in 1866, and quietly make room for their successors. But they may decide to appeal to the country in the hope that they will obtain from the people the support they have failed to rally around them in the House of Commons. Should they adopt the latter course, and suffer a reverse, they will undoubtedly involve in ruin not alone themselves and the Irish Church, but will weaken the foundation if they do not entirely destroy the Established Church edifice of the English Church. Resignation must avert for a short season the danger that threatens the latter es-taunsument; an appea might encompass its dissolution immediately. The Governor's reply to the motion of Hon. DeCosmos, asking for copies of the correspondence on the question of uniting this Colony with the Dominion of Canada, was laid before the Council yesterday. His Excellency declines to send down "reports he has received from conversation with the Governor of Canada, which are not of a strictly official character." What es this reply indicate? Can it be possible that His Excellency has not corresponded at all on the subject? Have no official despatches passed between the Imperial Government or the Government of Canada and our Government on the subject of Confederation? Taking it for granted that his Excellency's answer is correct, we ask what becomes of the promise last session to carry out the resolution of the Legislative Council, viz: to open negotiations with the Canadian Gov ernment with a view to our being admitted to the family circle of the Dominion? Surely there is something wrong somewhere. If the unanimous wish of the Council is to meet with no more attention than this recommendation has received, the members may as well go home. It is a sinful waste of valuable time and a mockery of legislation to vote addresses and supplies, and pass recommendations, if they are to meet with no respect. The whole thing is a farce. The Governor says that he used in his speech at the opening of the Council the precise words of Her Majesty's Secretary of State on the subject of Confederation. These words, in substance, were that the Northwest Territory is an obstacle to British Columbia joining the Confederation; but surely these "precise words" were written before the Northwest remains and become that or the ion, and an objection which might have held good before those words were penned would have taken care to receive some thing more tangible than "conversations not of a strictly official character," and he would not conjure up an "obstacle" that has ceased to exist as a reason why we should not seek for a change of Govern. ment. We begin to despair of Mr. Seymour's hearty co-operation in any scheme likely to prove beneficial to the Colony.

Correction.

EDITOR COLONIST :- You state in your editorial of to-day that I had filed a petition in bankruptcy in the Supreme Court of this Island. Such is not the case. The Vancouver Coal Company claimed an amount which I disputed, showing in an account rendered to them that they were in reality my debtors. They then procured a trader debtor summons against me, when I stated I was willing to have the matter tried by a jury, which the Chief Justice refused to sanction unless the whole amount claimed by them was paid into Court previous to trial. Being unable and unwilling (from the fact that I felt convinced that the Company had no just claim against me) to do this, I was thereupen at once declared a bankrupt by Mr Needham.

AUSTRALASIA.

New South Wales.

SYDNEY, Jan. 30th, 1868. The Prince's visit is the only thing people on find time to talk about, and to it we are indebted for the complete metamorphosis that has taken place in our city—for the forest of flagstaffs, the clouds of bunting, the trium-phal arches and the crowds of visitors seen in our streets. On the 4th instant the Gala-tea sailed from Melbourne for Hobartown, but without eliciting any demonstration, not even the Scotch query—"Will you no come back agen." There is no use handling the matter agen." There is no use handing the matter with gloved fingers; public men are to a certain extent public property, and must expect to have their conduct canvassed by others, and particularly by the press, where that institution exists. The Prince landed that institution exists. The Prince landed in Melbourne amidst an almost insane demonstration of respect for himself and loyalty to his Royal mother. When he left, the Australasian (the most widely circulated journal in the colonies) noticing his departure, cays:—"The future of the great off-shoots of Britain offers a problem to the mind of English statesmen, beginning to be studied, but the solution of which has not extended beyond the opinion that it is undesirable to allow them to become antagdesirable to allow them to become antagonistic republics like that of North America It is possible enough, therefore, that had these colonies been bent, like the chrildren of Ierael of old, upon asking for a king, and Prince Alfred not invincibly opposed to southern seat of empire, the world might have witnessed in these days the astounding spectacle of a second British monarchy. Were any such ideas as this entertained however, when the Galatea left Europe, a grave mistake was made in failing to send Mentor with the young Telemannus. If it was intended by this visit to create among the colonists an ardent desire to have a Royal Court established in their midst, the choice of courtiers was, to say the least of it. unfortunate. The central figure, however, acceptable as a distinguished visitor, has certainly not impressed the people of Vicoria with a belief in his capacity as a ruler. or his determination strictly to perform the thousand harassing duties appertaining to a high station. He has failed lamentably in the kingly virtue of punctuality, while of that dignity of demeasor which is said to befit the prince, we have had but few examples But if a resident Prince Alfred in Australia would not be enthusiastically acceptable, so far as Victorian opinion goes, what would be thought of a Court composed of Newrys and Yorkers? Our colonial youth are not backward in what, in common parlance, is termed "fastness," but we believe they might take lessons in rapidity from these scions of the British aristocracy. With these for our noblemen, it would become matter for curious speculation as to who would be our noble women! No; if simple-minded Australian colonies were intended to be converted into eager lovers of aristocracy, the wrong men were sent to inoculate them with the passion.

On the 6th instant the Galatea arrived at Hobartown and remained there until the 18th, when she sailed for this port, and at daylight on the 21st she was signalled of this coast about forty miles south of Sydney. All became attacked with the Prince fever, and over forty steamers put to sea laden with passengers anxious to go outside the Heads and meet the Prince, even at the risk of getting the mal-du mer. The rain fall for nearly six months previously had not been more than one inch, but no sooner had the Galatea hove in sight than Jupiter pluvius, condescended to reign, and from that time to the present there has scarcely been a dry hour. The Gaiatea entered the Heads about three o'clock, and as soon as she came in sight of II. M.'s ship Challenger (flag-ship on the station) the Prince saluted Commodore Lambert's pennant. On anchoring in the usual man-of war rendezvous. ing in the usual man-off war rendezvous, is procession of steamers passed by, saluted and took their position for the night display. The Royal Sydney and the Prince Alfred Yacht squadrons followed teeir example, and soon after the Prince went ashore to Government House in company with Commodore Lambert. Night came and with it heavier. tambert. Night came and with it heavier rain, but could not wash out our loyalty or stop out pyrotechnic display. The ships, yachts, forts, buildings adjoining the seashore became a blaze of light, colored fire and bonfires, Chinese lauterns, Bengal lights, rockets, in fact everything that could tend to add brilliancy to the fete was in full supply. At 9 p. m. the Galatea, hitherto the only dark object in our grand harbor, almost magically stood out the centre of attracti n. Blue lights formed the Southern Cross, on each mast, marked every port hole along her side and outlined her hull. In a few minutes after loud cheers rang along the shores as an immense flery dragon was seen coming along towards the shipping. It was a capi-tal affair, formed by covering a stern wheel steamer of 1/0 feet in length with canvass and other substances to represent the body of the mythical monster. From the mouth and eyes were emitted colored fires, rockets and fireworks, and the tail formed of twenty bosts burned with bright lights on both sides, ever and anon sent up showers of brilliant corruscations. At noon on the 22d. His Royal Highness and suite left the Galatea under royal salutes from the naval training ship, the land batteries and Her Majesty's ships in port. He was received by his Excellency the Governor, the members of the Executive, the Reception Committee, and other gentlemen. Under a grand triumphal arch, opposite to the landing-place, the Mayor of Sydney, surrounded by the civic dignituries, presented an address, to which his Royal Highness made a suitable reply. The Prince then entered his carriage, with the Earl of Belmore, Lord Newry, and Lientcoant Haig, and drove through the city, his progress being marked by the desfening ships in port. He was received by his his progress being marked by the deafening cheers of the people, who thronged the line of route in thousands. The procession consisted of the Volunteer Fire Company, head-

In the evening, the city was illuminated, and, despite the drenching rain, the general effect was magnificent. effect was magnificent.

On the following day (Thursday) His Royal Highness held a levee at Government House, attended by many thousands of persons. In the evening there was a grand display of fireworks in the Outer Domain, at which there must have been 60 000 people one on the first of th which there must have been 60 000 people pre-ent. On Friday a grand review took place in the Outer Domain, at which the Prince appeared in the uniform of a general officer of Saxe-Coburg Gotha. In the evening there was a dramatic performance at the University, which His Royal Highness attended. The plays performed were Terence's Phormio and Moliere's Monsieur de Pourceaugnac. On Saturday, the Duke's day" Races came off at Randwick, and Brilginbar won the two principal events. The Prince remained to witness the last event, which did not couclade until 6 o'clock. The Earl and Countess of Belmore, Sir The Earl and Countess of Belmore, Sir George and Lady Bowen with their suites, and the gentlemen in attendance upon his Highness were present. On Mooday, the Anniversary Regatta took place, and the Prince was also present at that. Heavy rain prevented a good deal of enjoyment, and some races had to be postponed. His Royal Highness lunched on board the flagship Highness lunched on board the flag-hip, with the members of the regatta committee, and his health being proposed, returned thanks in a "neat and appropriate" but brief oration. On the following day the Bishop of Sydney, in St Andrews Cathedral, on behalf of the children attending the Anglican Sunday schools in the dioceses of Sydney and Goulburn, presented His Royal Highness with a splendid Bible and Prayer Book in a rich casket.

The Prince will leave here for Brisbane about the 21st ult, and after staying there ten days will return to Sydney, and finally leave here about the middle of March. Earl Belmore successor to St. John Young Earl Belmore, successor to Sir John Young Ball Belmore, successor to Sir John Young as Governor General of the colony, arrived here by the Sobraon on the 7th inst, Isaded officially next day at noon, and after being sworn in by Mr Justice Hargreaves, held his first lovee. His Excellency has already created a very favorable impression by his unassuming manner and courtesy to all with whom he is brought in contest. Yest relay whom he is brought in contact he escorted the Prince to open the Horticul tural Show.

The bark Salween, of 600 tons, homeward bound from Brisbane with wool, bides and being a week at sea it was found that the cargo was on fire. The flames were sup-pressed until they got into this port, where her total destruction was only prevented by scuttling the ship. She has since been raised and the cargo discharged, par-tially destroyed. On the 6th of January a fearful collision occurred on the government railway at New-town (within a few miles of Sydney.) The train was taking in passengers when a goods train coming down the same line of rails collided with great force. A Mr Falconer was killed, about 20 persons badly injured and a number stratched and shaken. The driver of the goods train and the station master at the Barwon station have been committed for manslaughter. The Commercial Bank has declared a dividend of 17 per cent per annum.

After a lengthened struggle the opposition has granted two months' supplies to the government, thus enabling them to postpone business until after the Prince leaves.

The amount of gold raised in this colony last year was 250,882 ozs of gold, valued at £972,745, which if divided amongst 11,896 £972,745, which it divided amongst 11,896 miners engaged in aurilerous mining would give to each weekly wages amounting to £1 1ls 5½d. The ship City of Melbourne, 1828 tons, belonging to the Black Ball Line, was discovered on fire on Sunday morning, at Williamstown, near Melbourne. All attempts to extinguish the fire proved unavailing, and she was sunk by firing cannon into her bull. Another Liverpoolship, the Light of the Age, Porter, master, from Liverpool to Molbourne, with forty-five passengers and a general cargo, ran ashore about a mile to the west of Point Lonsdale, on the 16th of January. The ministry have asked the country shall the pretensions of the upper House be tolerated, shall the Darling vote be rejected. Thus far the answer has been in the negative, and the ministry promise to have a larger majority than at last parliament, as out of twenty-four members already elected only five are on the opposition benches. In the meantime the only topic of conversation is the election.

The comparative statement of the net revenues and expenditure of the colony for the quarter and year ending December 31, 1867, published in the Government Gazette 1867, published in the Government Gazette shows: The revenue collected during the quarter amounted to £.87,218 123 1d, against £844,038 2s 11d collected in the corresponding quarter of 1866, thus showing a falling off to the extent of £106 819 10s 10d for the quarter. The revenue for the year amounted to £3 043 987 9s 1d, which compared with £2,948,429 3s received for 1866. shows an increase amounting to £95,558 6s

THE BRITISH MINISTRY DEFEATED

London, April 4-The House of Commens was densely crowded to hear the debate on Gladstone's motion to disestablish the Irish Church. The question was on Lord Stanley's motion to postpone the question to next Par-The Prince and Princess of Wales and several other members of the Royal Family staid in the royal gallery till the debate closed. A vote was reached at half-past two A division took place on Stanley's motion to postpone. Six hundred members voted, and Government was defeated by sixty majority. The announcement was greated with wild cheers from the Liberals. On going into committee Gladstone's resolutions were carried by a majority of 56. In committee Gladstone moved his first resolution and that the committee report progress. The House adjourned at 3 o'clock.

LONDON, April 4.—The defeat of the Mintry is the chief topic of conversation. The Times says the Commons have resolved tha this cancer of the nation must be removed and the rejection of Stanley's amendment and the adoption of Gladstone's resolution is merely the first step of the operation. The national will, soon to be expressed, will be no uncertain sound. It would insist that the work so happily begun shall be thoroughly performed. This morning's vote is the dawn of a reunited Empire. Now Ireland may take confidence. She is sustained by a vast balance of opinion of the Kingdom. The wrongs of ages are to be ended and right done amid the acclamations of the nation. This must guarantee peace.

London, April 5-An important meeting of the Cabinet was held on Saturday to consider what action should be taken in conse quence of the vote on Friday night on Gladstone's resolution. It is reported that the Ministry decided to resign in case the cpposition should retain their large majority after the recess of Parliament.

PARIS, April 5-The Etandarde has adviees from Rio de Laplata to the 8th ult., which say the State of Paraguay and its President, General Lopez, are not so desperate as the Brazilian accounts represent.

NEW YORK, April 5-The Herald's Berlin special says Minister Bancroft has been commissioned by the U S Government to complete a treaty of commerce and navigation with the North German Confederation and the German Zollverein.

WASHINGTON, April 4 .- In the President's communication relative to the North German Treaty he intimates a probability that the same question will soon be settled in England, either by treaty or by mutual legislation. England evinces a willingness to adop the American view of the matter.

They must not be confounde with secret or quack medicines, as their names suffic ently indicate their composition; a circumstance which has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the Faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from those numerous medicines advertised in the public papers as able to cure every possible disease, as they are applicable only to but a very few complaints. The most stringent laws exist in France with regard to the sale of medical preparations, and only those which have undergone an examination by the Academy of Medicine and have been proved efficacious, either in the hospital or in the practice of the first medicalmen, are authorised by the Government.
